The 'Natural World Art Group' (NWAG) was created with the aim to encourage fellow artists and new talent to discover the zoo and its animal residents, make use of the facilities it can provide and utilise the resource.

NWAG is organized by a small committee of local artists who stage various art exhibitions mainly within the zoo, and funds raised from commission charged to artists on the sales of work directly support the activities of the Zoological Society of East Anglia (ZSEA).

ZSEA are active in wildlife conservation at both Banham Zoo and Africa Alive!, and assist with funding conservation projects in the wild.

NWAG has established itself as one of the leading wildlife art groups in the UK and welcomes all 'wildlife and the living world' artists from novice to seasoned professional, whether locally based or from further afield, to participate.
